SAIL AWAY LIVE MUSIC APPROVED

Peter Mendell, d/b/a SailAway, appeared at an open hearing which followed his request 2 weeks ago that he be allowed to provide live music to his patrons. Mr. Mendell pointed to his record of operation as proof that he runs an orderly and quiet establishment which is compatible with the neighborhood. Of all abutters notified, Mr. Maurice Linhares was present. He said that he represented himself and Dean K. Whitler who had submitted a letter of July 26. Selectmen read the letter aloud. Mr. Whitler stated that he was pleased with the conduct of the Sail Away and had no objection to live music; however, he asked that 3 conditions be met: 1) No rock or disco; 2) No electronic amplifiers; and 3) Sound proofing contain the music. Mr. Mendell said that he planned no rock or disco and planned to hire only single or small groups of folk musicians but he pointed out that some use electronic guitars. He said that it would be played in an enclosed building however. Selectmen concluded that if the music is completely

You: Taking Too Many Drugs?

Legal drugs have become a major problem in American society. Consider these facts:

- An average of six prescriptions are filled each year for every man, woman and child in the U.S. The average doubles when prescription drugs given in hospitals are included.

- Some 5 billion tranquilizer capsules are prescribed each year.

Says Dr. Jere E. Goyan, Commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA):

"We Americans are an over-medicated society. Patients expect a prescription every time they visit their doctors. Often they'd be better off without a drug, and they shouldn't insist on one."

Goyan, a pharmacist, believes the over-medication problem includes non-prescription drugs as well.

He offers this guidance:

- Don't expect a prescription every time you visit the doctor. There isn't a pill for every ill.
- Discuss with your doctor what the drug is for and what side effects to look for.
- Do follow the doctor's instructions, and those accompanying drugs, when taking medications.
- If you have any questions, ask your doctor or pharmacist.
- Use your head before you swallow.

Center Street Festival

The annual Centre Street Summer Festival has become an integral part of the revitalization taking place in New Bedford's restored waterfront district. Threading through five blocks of this old whaling center are 75 exhibitors displaying their work, and musicians, dancers, clowns and jugglers entertaining the crowds. Careful selection of the various craftsmen and vendors has made this festival a standard in southern New England by which others are judged.

Sponsored by the New Bedford Preservation Society, the Centre Street Summer Festival will be held this weekend, August 9th and 10th.

Eight Artists is an exhibit of work of painters, sculptors, and photographers. From the Rhode Island School of Design are painter Ana Flores-Jenkins, photographer Tom Faulkner, and sculptors Gabriel Warren, Matt Pozorski, Larry Voytek, Kim Barry, and professor of sculpture Arnold Prince. Photography by Caryn Koffman, a Marion summer resident, is also included. The artists are gathered from Baltimore, New Haven, Boston, Providence, and Philadelphia.

It is unique to see such a combination of artists especially predominated by sculpture. Carved stones and wood, welded, cast and forged metals are some of the techniques and materials used in the sculptures.

The show will be in the meeting hall of St. Gabriel's Church in Marion from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday,

TRIP TO NEW ALCHEMY INSTITUTE

Our country's concern with Energy is necessarily on everyone's mind. It seems that time is running out on supplies of fuel and other resources that over population grossly consumes every day. We wonder what life will be like for future generations and realistically realize that it will even be very different for us within the next ten years. We have heard of alternative energy uses but probably have sketchy and skeptical ideas about them.

On Saturday, August 16th, the Dartmouth Children's Museum will visit a center in Falmouth that has put alternate energy ideas to full use. The center is the "New Alchemy

Investigation of alternate methods and sources of survival have helped this center evolve and become a place where families live and work and small enterprises operate. Work at the Institute includes agriculture, aquaculture, wind and energy and solar energy.

Please join our trip to Falmouth and observe this highly efficient and economically feasible alternative life style. There will be workshops for adults and programs for children and our group is invited to a Pot-Luck Lunch. There is no doubt that our field trip to the New Alchemy will prove to be an enjoyable and educational feast for us all.

LANAGAN OF MATTAPoisETT TO PLAY FOR NORTHEASTERN

Jim Lanagan of 8 Knollwood Road in Mattapoisett will be in uniform for the Northeastern University football team when the Huskies face the University of Rhode Island in the season opener, September 13.

Lanagan, a 5'10, 180 pound sophomore defensive back, gives the Huskies good speed at the defensive back position. Since Northeastern lost three starters from last year's 3-7 squad, Lanagan's chances for action are improved this year.

"Jim is a real hard worker, and an exceptional kid", says Head Coach Robert

"Bo" Lyons of the Engineering major. "He will help us out this year and will be a member of our specialty teams."

Northeastern will be faced with its toughest schedule as a Division 1-AA school. During the course of 11 games, the Huskies will meet such top names as Connecticut, New Hampshire, Boston University, and NCAA national runner-up, Lehigh.

Lanagan is a 1979 graduate of Tabor Academy. Before that, he was a standout for four years in both football and basketball at Old Rochester Regional.

Jim's father is the Head football coach at Fairhaven High.

"Mr. Lyford is a superb sculptor," Ms. Franks said. "His collection has been displayed in museums and galleries throughout New England and many other parts of the country. He has received the coveted Sculpture Prize from the New Hampshire Art Association five times."

Many of Mr. Lyford's most prized works are small subjects inspired by the animal world, particularly gulls, whales and horses. According to Ms. Franks, his collection also features larger works, several feet in length, with classical overtones and forms that are crisply articulated.

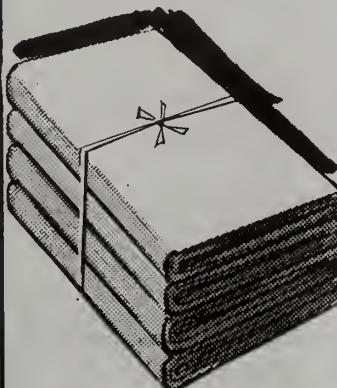

Mr. Lyford has also been commissioned to create an original work to commemorate Ocean Spray's 50th birthday. This new work will be unveiled next month in the headquarters of the 800-member agricultural cooperative, located adjacent to Cranberry World on Water Street.

Sculpture by Cabot Lyford, along with a panorama of other intriguing exhibits colorfully depicting the history of cranberries, can be viewed free from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Cranberry World's permanent displays include arrangements of pre-colonial and modern-day artifacts, absorbing photo montages, a cranberry bog diorama, and audio-

TRIBUTE TO CALVIN DAGGETT

Mr. Daggett died July 7th in Rochester.

A MAN CALLED CAL

His fame was only local

He knew no world acclaim
But the fact he lived among us was
Our blessing just the same.

A simple man, a wholesome one,
In our modern, complex plan
He was a welcome rarity

A most "uncommon" common man.

Hard working, honest carpenter

No "wheeler-dealer" he
With an awful lot of virtues like
That One in Galilee.

Yet not a saint by any standard

He could tease and he could try
Might even "raise your hackles" til
You caught the mischief in his eye.

He liked debate, we'd argue, hotly

Politics--religion--social trends
We seldom changed each other's minds
But we always parted friends.

To see his easy, inborn style of dancing
With Pal, his cherished wife

Was to see togetherness in rhythm
To know togetherness in life.

visual presentations profiling today's cranberry growers.

A noteworthy new exhibition that also ties in with Ocean Spray's golden anniversary is a tribute to the year 1930, called "1930 Re-Visited". This nostalgic exhibit includes examples of dress and household items from the period, as well as 1930 editions of newspapers, books and advertising posters.

On Sunday, August 17, Cranberry World presents the Sound of Yesterday Band as part of its free concert series on the boardwalk from 2 to 4 p.m.

Cranberry World and three adjoining cranberry bogs are situated along the scenic Plymouth waterfront, less than a half mile from Plymouth Rock and the Mayflower II.

Just his work alone in scouting
Should earn him credits up above
Yet every aspect of his living was
A ministry of love.

We all loved his country music
And the Gospel hymns so dear
For the songs came pouring from his heart
Without shame we'd wipe a tear.

How he loved to praise his Maker!
And the Good Book's lessons teach
And a whole lot more than most of us
He practiced what he preached!

He stood ever at the ready
To total up his score
And present his own credentials
Over on that Other Shore.

to be a part of history?

Battleship Cove, Fall River, Massachusetts, is looking for people to participate in a re-enactment of the Japanese surrender ceremonies formally ending WWII which took place 35 years ago, September 2, 1945, in Tokyo Bay.

The re-enactment, the first for the surrender ceremonies, will take place September 1, 1980 aboard the 680' battleship USS Massachusetts, now on permanent exhibit along with four other US Naval ships at Battleship Cove.

The actual surrender occurred aboard the 888' USS Missouri now in an inactive state in the reserve fleet at Bremerton, Washington.

The script for the re-enactment, entitled "A Generation Remembers", was written by Joyce B. Rodrigues, Battleship Cove staff member, and is based on the transcripts and accounts of the actual proceedings.

Members of the Little Theatre group of Fall River will portray the 15 principal Allied and Japanese dignitaries present at this time, including Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Admiral William Halsey, Lt. Generals Jonathan M. Wainwright, and Arthur E. Percival, Japanese Minister Shigemitsu and General Umezu.

The part of General Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers, will be played by Edward J. Ward of Somerset, head of the Foreign Languages Department at Somerset High School, also Hospitality Director at Battleship Cove and Executive Secretary of the Tin Can Sailors organization of destroyermen.

Angus Bailey, director of the Little Theatre, will direct. Needed are people to portray witnesses and onlookers; 40 Navy personnel; 50 Army; 30 foreign military and 40 extras.

Since the pageant will take place on the open deck area immediately outside of the captain's cabin, as it did on board the USS Missouri, space will be limited. The best way to see the re-enactment close at hand is to be in it. Those interested should contact the Battleship Cove office in Fall River, Mass. 02722, either by letter or by calling 678-1100. A first rehearsal will be scheduled in early August.

offensive action of the war. On August 9, the day the second atomic bomb destroyed Nagasaki, the Massachusetts joined in a raid against Kamashi, the steel producing center of Japan. It was there during that raid that the Massachusetts fired off what was to be the last 16 inch shell fired in anger in World War II.

Arthritis Warning

The Massachusetts Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation has issued a statement warning arthritis sufferers about a medication made in Hong Kong which is supposed to contain Chinese herbs and be a "cure" for arthritis.

Promotion of this remedy, called Chui-fong Toukuwan and made by Nan-Lein Pharmaceutical Company, is the worst kind of quackery. It is so dangerous that its side effects could result in death.

NEW BLACK EAGLE JAZZ BAND AT
HERITAGE PLANTATION- BEST IN THE LAND

The popular New Black Eagle Jazz Band returns to Heritage Plantation of Sandwich for its ninth annual visit Saturday, August 9, at 7:30 p.m. with a rain date for the same time August 10. John S. Wilson of the N.Y. Times has said, "The Black Eagles are so far ahead of other traditional bands around the country that there is scarcely any basis for comparison".

Six of the same musicians that appeared on their first visit in 1972 will be present plus Phil Crumley from California on cornet. Others include pianist Bob Pilsbury, Peter Bullis on banjo, trombonist Stan Vincent, Pam Pameijer on drums and tuba player Eli Newberger. Also, the superb star soloist, Stan McDonald, who is a fine clarinetist and great on soprano sax.

Shortly after this appearance the band leaves for the Edinburg Festival. Winning international awards is a long time habit for the New Black Eagles. They make more than 100 guest appearances each year, but their traditional New Orleans jazz is heard regularly by many fans, including hundreds here on Cape Cod, at the "Sticky Wicket" restaurant in Hopkinton.

Membership and admission tickets of the day will be honored for this event and to all of the museum buildings and grounds.
